

Have we got great news for you!

GOOD NEWS!

Ontario Cancer Care has implemented a first time program designed to provide high quality care for sarcoma patients in that province. This is a really big deal and we hope it offers much needed help to adult sarcoma patients. It has been suggested by a doctor known to us that sarcomas may be less obscure than previously thought if such a program has come into existence. Let all us keep our fingers crossed the rest of Canada will soon follow!
